

Notes on the Contributors

Dalia Băthory – PhD; current affiliation: expert, researcher at the Institute for the Investigation of Communist Crimes and the Memory of the Romanian Exile; main areas of research: minorities in Communist Romania, collective memory in post-communism; other research interests: history and philosophy of science in the socialist bloc, history of Holocaust, political philosophy; most recent publication: “A Hungarian Strategy to Cope with the 1956 Crisis. Narratives in the Securitate Files” in the volume Histories (Un)Spoken. Strategies of Survival and Social-Professional Integration in Communist Political Prisoners’ Families in Central and Eastern Europe in the ’50s and ’60s (to be published); e-mail address: dalia.bathory@iiccmer.ro.

Álvaro Cúria – PhD student; researcher at the Institute of Contemporary History (New University of Lisbon), and University of Porto; main area of research: political theory, political science; other research interests: history of contemporary political ideas, studies on Communism, political communication and new media; most recent publication: Novais, Rui e Cúria, Álvaro, “A Diachronic Analysis of Portuguese Digital Campaigning”, in Solo, Ashu M. G. (coord), Political Campaigning in the Information Age, Maverick Technologies America, Inc, Columbia, 2014.

Ermira Danaj – current affiliation: University of Neuchatel; main area of research: gender in post-communist countries; other research interests: Gender and Migration, Gender Politics; Communist and Post-Communist Studies; Feminist Studies; most recent publication: ‘Radical Left in Albania and Kosovo: Differences and Similarities’, SEEU Review, Volume 12, Issue 1 (June 2017); e-mail address: ermira.danaj@unine.ch.

Elisa Goudin – PhD; current affiliation: Maître de conférences, Université de Paris 3 Sorbonne Nouvelle; main area of research: cultural policies, artists and performers in the former GDR, German studies; other research interests: memory policies, transition in the former communist states; most recent publication: Elisa Goudin, « La politique culturelle à Berlin : du système de la RDA au système démocratique de l'Allemagne unifiée (1957-1994) », Revue d'Allemagne et des pays de langue allemande, dossier thématique publié à l'occasion de la question d'agrégation sur « Berlin, histoire d'une ville (1957-1994) », tome 49, n°1, janvier-juin 2017, pp. 37-55; Elisa Goudin (avec Anne-Laure Daux-Combaudon et Céline Trautmann-Waller), Introduction à un dossier thématique « Récit de l'espace / Espace du récit en contexte germanique », Cahiers de Narratologie [En ligne], 31 bis | 2017, mis en ligne le 09 mai 2017. URL : <http://narratologie.revues.org/7644>; Elisa Goudin-Steinmann, « Spatialité et mise en récit de projets de vie alternatifs dans des espaces de l'ex Berlin-Est détournés de leur usage initial », Cahiers de Narratologie [En ligne], 31 bis | 2017, mis en ligne le 10 mai 2017. URL : <http://narratologie.revues.org/7648>; e-mail address: elisa.goudin-steinmann@univ-paris3.fr.

Alexandra Alina Iancu – PhD; current affiliation: University of Bucharest, Faculty of Political Science; main area of research: parties and elites in the ECE region, history of corruption; other research interests: semi-presidentialisms, electoral studies; most recent publication: « Démocratisation et professionnalisation politique en Roumanie : règles formelles et pratiques informelles de sélection gouvernementale » Revue d'études Comparatives Est-l'Ouest, vol. 48, no 1-2, mai-juin 2017, pp. 235-264 ; “Le pouvoir à l’abri de sanction: les débuts du contrôle parlementaire en Roumanie à la fin du xix siècle” in Olivier Dard, et al. (dir.), Plus rien dans sa sacoche : moralité du pouvoir et corruption en France et en Roumanie (XVIIIe-XXe siècles), Presses de l’université Paris-Sorbonne, Paris, 2017 ; „Comprendre la représentation politique: la modernisation à rebours des élites post-communistes en Bulgarie et Roumanie” in A. Todorov and Petia Gueorguieva, (coord), A la recherche d’une nouvelle représentation politique, L’Harmattan, Paris, 2017 ; e-mail : alexandra.ionascu@fspub.unibuc.ro.

Roman Jankowski – Current affiliation: Alumnus, Department of History, Central European University, Budapest; main area of research: censorship practices in print media in Communist societies - the relationship of the editorial team of Tygodnik Powszechny (Universal Weekly) and the censorship authorities in the People’s Republic of Poland; other research interests: language manipulation and propaganda in Communist Poland: the techniques used by Communist authorities in print media during the period of the People’s Republic of Poland, as well as the idea of Newspeak as a universal language; other research projects: MA thesis - The Language of Communist Propaganda in Central and Easter Europe: The Case of Polish Press between 1975 and 1978, defended at Jagiellonian University in Krakow, Poland; e-mail address: romanjankowski@poczta.onet.pl.

Klejd Këlliçi – PhD. Current affiliation: University of Tirana; main area of research: Comparative Politics; other research interests: Communist and Post-Communist Studies, political parties, Ethnic Politics, social movements; most recent publication: ‘Radical Left in Albania and Kosovo: Differences and Similarities’, SEEU Review, Volume 12, Issue 1 (June 2017); e-mail address: k.kellici@gmail.com.

Stefan Lémny – PhD; current affiliation: National Library of France; main area of research: cultural history of the 18th century; published books: Jean-Louis Carra, parcours d'un révolutionnaire (1743-1793), foreword by Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie (L'Harmattan, 2000); Les Cantemir (Complexe, 2009); e-mail address: STEFAN.LEMNY@bnf.fr.

Mara Mărginean – PhD; current affiliation: “George Baritiu” Institute of History in Cluj-Napoca; main area of research: Social history in the 20th century Europe; most recent publication: Ferestre spre furnalul rosu. Urbanism si cotidian in Hunedoara si Calan, 1945-1968 [Windows towards the Red Furnace. Urbanism and Daily Life in Hunedoara and Calan, 1945-1968]. Iasi, Polirom, 2015; e-mail address: maramarginean@yahoo.com.

Boris Popivanov – PhD; current affiliation: Assistant Professor in Political Science at Sofia University “St. Kliment Ohridski”; main area of research: History of the Leftist Political Ideas; other research interests: modern Bulgarian institutions, youth political participation; most recent publication: “Ideas of Civil Society. A Reader” (editing, translation, introduction H. Panicidis, O. Kassabov, B. Popivanov), Sofia, St. Kliment Ohridski University Press, 2016; e-mail address: bpopivanov@phls.uni-sofia.bg.

Enis Sulstarova – Current affiliation: Department of Political Science, University of Tirana, Albania; main area of research: nationalism, identity politics, political sociology; other research interests: politics and culture in Balkans; most recent publication: “Islamism means East”: Narrating the nation, Europe and Islam in public discourse and in history textbooks. Tirana: Pika pa sipërfaqe. (In Albanian); e-mail address: enis.sulstarova@gmail.com.

Francesco Zavatti – PhD; current affiliation: post-doctoral researcher at Institute for Contemporary History, Södertörn University, Sweden and lecturer at the Department of Political Science, Roma Tre University, Italy; main area of research: transnational history, with focus on trans-systemic encounters in Cold War Europe; other research interests: power and history-writing in contemporary Europe, nationalism and communism, Nordic cooperation and European integration, history of the war veterans' associations in Europe; most recent publication: 'The Oresund bridge from imagination to innovation' Memoria e Ricerca, 2/2017: 313-330. ISSN: 1127-0195; e-mail address: zavatti.francesco@gmail.com.